Exclusive Pre-Cruise Wine Tour

Hungarian Wine Experience - 3 Nights – June 23-26, 2022

Enjoy the Wines of Hungary

This exclusive tour is designed for the wine enthusiast! Our private guide is fluent in history and wine! In Budapest, our private coach is selected to ensure comfort and excellence in quality as we adventure to the Egers and Tokaji Wine Regions. Enjoy the fruit of our relationships with wineries and venues to fully experience the region once known for the most important wines in the world. Coveted by royal customers including Hungarian noblemen, Ferenc Rákóczi II, Peter the Great, King Louis XIV, Catherine the Great and even Austrian composer Joseph Haydn (who received some payments in the form of wine) we follow in their footsteps to explore and enjoy the most desirable of these elixirs. We will overnight in Tokaji, enjoying exclusive winery visits and tastings.

Tokaji, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, is Hungary's most famous wine region and the first delimited wine region in the world. Viticultural traditions in Tokaji date back at least 1,000 years. It is also one of the most magical parts of the country. Everything about Tokaji—from its mixture of loess and volcanic clay soil and its microclimate (ideal for bringing on the mythical noble rot) to its indigenous grape varieties and its subterranean labyrinth of mold-covered cellars—contributes to the distinctive personality of its wines.

Eger is a beautiful historical town located in Northern Hungary. It's most famous for its castle, cathedral, red wine, Baroque palaces and Turkish remains, including the northernmost minaret in Europe. It produces the famous 'Bull's Blood of Eger' (Egri Bikavér), which has long been Hungary's most recognized red wine. It's a blend that has varied over the years, although it is originally based on the Kékfrankos grape. The famous white wines of the region are based on local varieties, like Egri Leányka, Olaszrizling, and Debrői Hárslevelű.

On your return to Budapest you will stay at the five star Kempinski Hotel. The next day enjoy a half-day Budapest tour which will end at the AmaMagna to begin your cruise.
